Circle of Control

Consider things you're in control of and write them in the circle below. If there's anything out of your control, write it in the space around the circle.

What I can't control

What I can control